

ReQuest Now Full Spectrum Entertainment

Add an IMC Intelligent Media Client to your client's ReQuest system and suddenly the entire breadth of the 21st century's entertainment universe comes to life on the largest TV your home theater can handle.

The ReQuest experience is all about choices - music for any listener in any room, weather and stocks on every screen in the house, photos and slideshows, and now movies and online video on every TV.

The IMC is an intelligent gateway to archives of your client's entire DVD collection as well as YouTube streaming content, homemade digital video and more.

Only ReQuest delivers video content AND award-winning distributed music capabilities. Up to 4 IMCs can be connected through your client's home network to your client's ReQuest system, delivering video to your client's television in 1080p via HDMI and Component outputs.

If you had the opportunity to visit with Omega Sales during our ReQuest open house, you saw this powerful interface in action. Simplicity in operation, comments from everyone included things like, "It is as easy as clicking on any well designed web site", "If you can use YouTube, this is easier", "It feels like an iPod". Everyone liked the feel of the sliding cover search for video and the quick access afforded by the alpha search. With the multiple paths to delivering an upgrade or a new IMC to client's, we had many orders at the open house.

If you have not seen this product, you can go to ReQuest's web site for some screen grabs under the press area, but you will quickly want to experience this for yourself. Contact your Omega Sales representative for more information.

In This Issue

- ReQuest Full Spectrum Entertainment
- Marantz Hits A Home Run With SR6003
- Single Stereo Simply Stunning
- When Is Less Actually More?
- Free Video Performance Seminar
- Read the archives...

